Dear Fourth Grade Parents and Students,

I hope that you enjoyed your summer. I know I did! I can't wait to start school in a couple of weeks and get back to a regular routine. I know that you already received a letter from us this summer, but things have changed a lot this year and I wanted to clear up any confusion that might be out there.

The only big difference for fourth graders is that Mrs. Briggs will be teaching social studies, and she will also be the teacher helping Mrs. Foord during Tin Mountain. Some of the fourth graders will have Mrs. Briggs for language arts because we are team teaching that subject. The groups are still being determined and might change periodically to meet individual needs.

I will still be teaching fourth grade math and science. I have sent a copy of the schedule in with this letter so that you will have a better idea of what your day will look like. Most of you will only be leaving our classroom once a day. This schedule may change a little, but it will give you a better idea.

Things will be a little different this year, but I'm looking forward to the changes and I hope that you are too. Please contact me if you have any questions. See you on September 2.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Palmer
